

Fact Sheet

WE ARE AMERICAN TIRE DISTRIBUTORS

In 1935, James H. Heafner opened Heafner Tire, a single tire store in Lincolnton, N.C. Over the course of 65 years, Heafner Tire grew to become a leading national tire and service distributor. In that time, several major tire companies, such as Beach Tire Mart, Oliver & Winston, and Commonwealth Tire, were brought under the Heafner banner.

In 2002, the name American Tire Distributors (ATD) was adopted to reflect the company's national footprint and focus on distribution. In 2013, we purchased Regional Tire Distributors in Canada and created National Tire Distributors—extending our network across North America.

Today, we are North America's premier tire distributor offering the broadest assortment of tires, wheels and shop supplies to more than 80,000 customers with same-day and next-day delivery.
